

Futuro Health is offering the opportunity for qualified applicants* to enroll in our Pharmacy Technician program.

About Pharmacy Technicians

Pharmacy technicians work under the direct supervision of a pharmacist. Pharmacy technicians conduct the more basic, repetitive activities of preparing prescription medicines for patients, such as counting pills, putting medicines in containers, labeling, and packing, after a pharmacist checks a doctor's prescription for errors or potential problems.

Computers are used by pharmacy technicians to search for medical insurance information and generate prescription labels. They are also responsible for keeping track of inventory, ordering when supplies are low, and stocking shelves.

Fast Facts about the Futuro Health Program:

- 9 - 12 months of training; including required 130 hours clinical externship (non-paid); time will vary per student.
- Participants who are accepted will be able to attend tuition-free thanks to Futuro Health scholarships.
- To ensure commitment and completion, participants are required to pay a one-time $100 non-refundable registration fee.

Futuro Health apoya el éxito estudiantil a través de contenidos especializados, coaching personalizado y establecimiento de metas, incluso para estudiantes que hablan inglés como segundo idioma.
